

Payment Assistance Policy

Introduction

1 About our Payment Assistance Policy

In Australia, telco customers who are in financial difficulty may be entitled to assistance from their telco supplier. This Payment Assistance Policy (policy, for short) explains:

- (a) when you may be eligible for financial hardship assistance;
- (b) what assistance we can provide;
- (c) how you can contact us to talk about assistance, and apply for it;
- (d) how we process and manage applications for assistance;
- (e) other options for getting support; and
- (f) other important matters.

2 The goals of our policy

For customers experiencing financial hardship:

- (a) the goal of our policy is to keep you connected; and
- (b) we will only use disconnection as a measure of last resort.

3 You are entitled to apply for assistance, free of charge

- (a) You have a right to apply for financial hardship assistance. The outcome of your application will be in accordance with this policy and the laws that apply to it.
- (b) Using this policy, including making an application, is free of charge.

4 You can complain about our decision

- (a) You can complain to us about our decision on your application, including asking for a review. You can access our Complaint Handling Process here. It explains in detail how to make a complaint, and how we process complaints.
- (b) If you're still not happy, you can make a complaint to the Telecommunications Industry Ombudsman (TIO):

 - by fax 1800 630 614

Eligibility for financial hardship assistance, and our application form

8 Legal test for eligibility

There is a legal test for eligibility to receive financial hardship assistance. To make it as simple as possible to understand, we have built the legal test into Part 2 of our application form, in plain English.

9 Understanding if you are eligible

Part 2 of our application form contains a number of statements. Each is followed by a coloured tick box e.g.:

Statement		✓ if correct
1	You are an individual human person and you mainly use your telco service for personal or domestic purposes.
2	You are a not-for-profit organisation.
3	You are a business, and when you entered your telco contract, you didn't have a genuine and reasonable opportunity to negotiate the terms, and your expected annual telco spend was $40,000 or less.
4	You don't sell the use of your service to anyone else.
5	You owe us, or will owe us, money that you can't pay.
6	The reason you can't pay is because:
(a)	you are ill, or you have been ill
(b)	someone in your household is ill or has been ill
(c)	you are unemployed, or have been unemployed

There are tick boxes in grey and orange and green and blue and pink and yellow.

If you have ticked:

- at least one grey box, and
- the orange box, and
- the green box, and
- at least one blue box, and
- at least one pink box, and
- the yellow box –

then you may be eligible for financial hardship assistance.

Options for assistance

10 Financial hardship assistance

The options we offer for financial hardship assistance are indicated by the pink check boxes on our application form.

11 General assistance

By way of general assistance to customers to manage payment obligations, and associated debts, to us, we will consider payment plans where reasonably requested, unless we assess that there is unacceptable credit risk or that payments will not be brought up to date within two billing cycles.

How to apply for financial hardship assistance

- (d) Complete Part 3 of the application by explaining the financial hardship assistance you request. (This is optional, but this information may speed up the process.)
- (e) Complete Part 4 the application by explaining any special matters you'd like us to be aware of. (This is optional, but this information may help us to help you more safely and sensitively.)
- (f) Sign the application where indicated.

13 Step 2: Send the application to us

You can do that by:

- (a) posting it to: Level 6, 410 Collins Street, Melbourne, Vic, 3000;
- (b) emailing it to us at: support@daretelecom.com.au.
- (c) giving us the application details by phone, by calling us.

14 Step 3: We'll acknowledge your application

We'll notify you:

- (a) that we have received your application;
- (b) of a reference number that identifies your application; and
- (c) of our estimated time to complete assessment of your application.

15 Step 4: We'll let you know if we need evidence (information, including documents) to show that you are in financial hardship

- (a) We'll only do this if the evidence is relevant to your application and not unreasonably onerous.
- (b) If you have applied for assistance for three billing cycles or less, we won't ask for such evidence (and you are not required to provide it) unless:
 - (i) it appears that an assistance arrangement will need to be for more than three billing periods; and
 - (ii) any of the following applies:
 - the amount to be repaid is more than $1,000;
 - you have been our customer for less than two months; or
 - we reasonably believe there is a possibility of fraud; and
 - (iii) the evidence is strictly necessary to assess your eligibility for financial hardship assistance.

 - (ii) in the case of illness – a medical certificate;

- (iii) in the case of unemployment – evidence that you have become unemployed or a relevant Centrelink benefits statement;
 - (iv) in the case of low or insufficient income – a relevant Centrelink benefits statement;
 - (v) in a case where we reasonably believe there is a possibility of fraud – a statutory declaration of verification.
- (e) Evidence that we request from you under this step 4 counts as part of your application, and your application is not complete until it has been provided to us.

16 Step 5: We'll assess your eligibility for financial hardship assistance

- (a) We'll assess the information supplied in your application form and including evidence you supply, and determine your eligibility for financial hardship assistance.
- (b) If it becomes clear to us that you are not eligible, we'll tell you immediately.
- (c) Otherwise:
 - we'll complete the assessment a.s.a.p. and no more than five business days after we receive your complete application; and
 - we'll tell you of the outcome of the assessment a.s.a.p and no more than two business days after we complete the assessment.
- (d) If you are assessed as eligible, we'll offer you financial hardship assistance.

Offering assistance

17 Step 6: We'll let you know if we need any further information (including documents)

- (a) We'll only do this where it's reasonably necessary in order for us to consider what financial assistance is realistic, appropriate and suitable for your needs and situation.
- (b) You can help us shortcut this step by providing helpful information in Part 3 of the application form, about what you can do to help you get your payments up to date. For instance, if you feel that you can afford to pay off arrears at $20 a week, tell us that.
- (c) As far as possible, we'll combine this step with step 5 i.e. we'll make a single request for information.

18 Step 7: We'll make you an offer

- (a) If we ask for information under step 6, we'll make you an offer of a financial hardship assistance arrangement no more than seven business days after we receive that information.
- (b) Otherwise, we'll make you an offer no more than seven business days after we notify you of the outcome of your eligibility assessment under step 5.
- (c) Our offer will be in writing, and sent to your preferred email address.
